Assembly Resource

Read through the information, which provides an overview of York's Street Rangers and how lots of organisations have come together to help make the city as safe as possible. Share your thoughts on the scheme. Is there anything similar happening where you live?

What is the York 'We've got it covered' campaign?

The campaign is part of the 'Let's Be York' initiative encouraging people to be safe, welcoming and considerate and to protect each other. The campaign will also remind people that some individuals may not be able to wear a face covering and to support them as they move around the city safely. It will also recognise the importance of handwashing, social distancing, staying at home and getting tested if you have symptoms. The campaign aims to help reinforce rules rather than punish those not following them. It involves lots of organisations working together.

Since 2016, The York Street Rangers have been the eyes and the ears of the city centre. They work with many different organisations and take a friendly approach to try to stop people from breaking rules and in current times, help to remind people to wear masks, stay socially distant and wash hands regularly.
